MERCER'S MOST WANTED

For immediate release: February 23, 2016

SHERIFF KEMLER: FIVE OF MERCER'S MOST WANTED REMAIN AT LARGE

THE MERCER COUNTY SHERIFF'S OFFICE IS SEEKING THE PUBLIC'S ASSISTANCE WITH LOCATING FIVE OF MERCER'S MOST WANTED THAT REMAIN AT LARGE

Today, Sheriff Jack Kemler reported that Mercer's Most Wanted program has achieved notable apprehension rates in the capture of fugitives. Since the revival of the program in November of 2013, Sheriff Kemler has placed twenty-one (21) fugitives on Mercer's Most Wanted list. To date, sixteen (16) of those fugitives have been successfully apprehended, most of them swiftly. "Most often, a member of the public recognize a fugitive's "wanted photo" in the newspaper or online and call the Sheriff's confidential tip line on their whereabouts," noted Sheriff Kemler.

The Mercer County Sheriff's Office Fugitive Unit continues to search for these five long-standing fugitives. However, there are suspicions that some may have fled the area. Consequently, Sheriff Kemler has also reached out to the United States Marshal's Service Regional Fugitive Task Force to enlist their support to help locate and apprehend these fugitives. (The Mercer County Sheriff's Office and the U.S. Marshal's Service have worked jointly for many years to locate and apprehend fugitives in our region).
